The Russian Far East and California – Natural Trading Partners

The Russian Far East is due west from California across the Pacific Ocean and is a natural trading partner for California. The Russian Far East (RFE) contains 10 States comprising an area of about 2/3rds of the continental United States. Rich in minerals, oil, timber and fish, the RFE is now receiving more foreign investment than any other part of Russia.

MBITA, the U.S. Foreign Commercial Service (FCS) and the California global trade community are conducting a trade mission to the Russian Far East (RFE) from August 1st to August 7th

This trade mission will be an exciting, action-packed experience to the bustling, metropolitan cities of Vladivostok and Khabarovsk including dinners, social events, conferences and one-on-one meetings with RFE government leaders and private business owners that fit your company's requirements.

We have identified strong opportunities for California companies in the following industries.

- Franchising (cloths, insurance, finance, food)
- eLearning and distance learning
- Auto parts & auto mechanic machinery
- Health foods, wine, beauty products and conventional groceries
- Equipment (agriculture, mining, food & fish processing, shipyard)
- Building and construction
- Tourism
- Environmental technologies

Specific one-on-one meetings will be arranged by the FCS in Vladivostok with potential Russian Far East exporters, importers, manufacturers, investors, software developers and strategic partners that fit your exact company requirements.
